Empathetic, expert advice in a heartbeat

Clinical negligence

Medical treatment can be daunting, which is why we place a great deal of trust in clinical experts and medical professionals. Unfortunately, mistakes can happen...If you have suffered as a result of clinical negligence, we can offer the support and advice you need.

Sometimes a medical procedure or treatment can go wrong, often with catastrophic results. A diagnosis could be missed or you may suffer at the hands of an inexperienced or incompetent surgeon, doctor or other healthcare professional. The consequences can be severely debilitating or even fatal.

Example clinical negligence cases include:

- > Surgical Errors
- > Birth Injuries
- > Misdiagnosis

At Davis Blank Furniss, we work with you to understand what's happened to you and the effect the negligence has had on your daily life.

We fight on your behalf to obtain the best possible outcome and every client works closely with an experienced and sympathetic clinical negligence solicitor. Initial advice is offered at our expense and with no obligation to you. We also offer a range of funding options so that legal costs are minimised and the maximum amount of compensation is preserved.

Every case is, of course, different so we will listen sensitively, offer support and help you to adapt to new and life changing circumstances.
