

Have you been let down by a Professional Advisor?

Professional negligence

Getting 'stung' by a professional adviser that you trust can be both a harrowing and costly experience; whether you're a commercial or a private claimant.

However, be rest assured that our Professional Negligence team is here to help ... whatever your individual circumstances might be.

The team - which is headed up by Paul Walton who has over 30 years in the field - is able to listen to and then act on your behalf. We know that it can be a sensitive area so our approach is built on a solid foundation of in-depth knowledge and impartiality.

Over the years, our solicitors have worked with many clients who have received bad advice throughout Greater Manchester, the North West and well beyond. In the past we have acted for claimants against many sectors, including;

- > Accountants
- > Architects
- > Estate agents
- > Engineers
- > Insurance brokers
- > Independent financial advisors
- > Marketing agencies
- > Recruitment consultants
- > Solicitors
- > Surveyors
- > Tax advisors
- > Valuers

If you feel you or your business have suffered as a result of inaccurate or bad professional service then please do pick up the phone as we may well be able to help.

Our aim is simple: we just want to ensure that the claimants we work for get the right result.
